Associate of Arts for Transfer: Communication Studies (30558)

The Associate in Arts in Communication Studies for Transfer degree provides training to build and maintain personal and professional relationships through effective communication. Completion of the transfer degree in Communication prepares students to:

- (1) Communicate with clarity and accuracy in diverse environments
- (2) Act with awareness of self amongst local and global communities
- (3) Think critically, creatively and reflectively
- (4) Learn about the self in professional and interpersonal relationships

Successful completion of the transfer degree in Communication guarantees the student acceptance to the California State University system to pursue a baccalaureate degree, in the field of business, industry, government, social service, and/or education in such areas as teaching, public speaking, consulting, law, announcing, and public relations.

Learning Outcome(s)

Upon successful completion of the major requirements for this degree, students will be able to

- Better manage apprehension in communication settings
- Present the self appropriately and effectively through verbal and nonverbal communication
