HISTORY OF SANTIAGO CANYON COLLEGE

Like many California Community Colleges, Santiago Canyon College grew out of a need to serve members of a growing community. Santiago Canyon College's journey began in 1971 after the Orange Unified School District joined with the Santa Ana Unified School District to create the Rancho Santiago Community College District. Later in that year, supporting their vision for higher education in their community, residents of the City of Orange voted to levy a self-imposed tax to purchase the original 30 acres of land in East Orange that would ultimately become the foundation for Santiago Canyon College.

By 1985, the Rancho Santiago Community College District (RSCCD) developed the land in East Orange to create the Orange Campus. As the second campus in the Rancho Santiago Community College district, the Orange Campus' first semester saw more than 2,500 eager students take a variety of general education, transfer, and vocational courses. Then, from 1985 to 1996, the Orange Campus experienced tremendous growth as the student population more than doubled. As a result of this veritable growth, the Rancho Santiago Community College District Board of Trustees unanimously voted to change the name of the Orange Campus to Santiago Canyon College and, therefore, created a multi-college structure for the Rancho Santiago Community College District. SCC was independently accredited in 2000.

In addition to Santiago Canyon College's multiple offerings, the campus landscape has also evolved so as to better meet the changing needs of students and community members. In order to provide students and the surrounding community with the space to embrace their life-long educational pursuits, Santiago Canyon College's grounds have grown from its earlier 30 acres to 82 acres. In November, 2002, voters in the college district voted to approve measure E, a $337 million bond measure to provide for renovation and new construction at both Santiago Canyon and Santa Ana colleges.

The campus has undergone a dramatic physical transformation. Santiago Canyon College has developed its building inventory to 271,138 gross square feet including a state-of-the-art Science Center, Humanities Building, Gymnasium, Swimming Pool, SCC Campus Safety Headquarters, and Maintenance and Operations Facility. The College continues to improve, expand, and maintain parking, circulation, and athletic facilities to best serve students.

Santiago Canyon College has taken root in its community and, will undoubtedly be an even more integral contributor to the community's health and history for years to come. As such, Santiago Canyon College will continue to respond to and celebrate the changing demographics of its vibrant student body as well as of its diverse community. Indeed, Santiago Canyon College will seek to provide a place of learning where future generations have the opportunity to explore varied educational opportunities that enhance their professional and personal lives.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic ceremonies with their gowns, mortarboards, tassels, hoods, and maces are colorful traditions handed down from European universities of the Middle Ages. The first organized institutions of learning took form during the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, generally under the jurisdiction of the church. Academic regalia, as we know it today, have evolved from the robes, hoods and caps worn mainly for warmth in unheated buildings by the clerics, monks and priests who were the first students.

In the United States, as a result of our English heritage, caps and gowns have been used since colonial times by the faculties of some universities and were generally standardized about 1895.

The bachelor's gown is plain with long pointed sleeves. The master's gown is slightly fuller in cut and has long oblong sleeves open at the wrist, with an arc cut in the front. The doctor's gown is fullest, with bell shaped sleeves. It is faced down the front with black velvet and has three bars of black velvet on the sleeve, although the velvet and bars may be in the color representing the bearer's academic field. Hoods are lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree, and the trimming is velvet, reflecting the color of the bearer's academic field.

GREETINGS FROM THE PRESIDENT

Congratulations to the Santiago Canyon College Class of 2025!

Today, we celebrate not only the achievements of our amazing Hawks—a powerful milestone in each of their academic journeys—but also the 25th Anniversary of Santiago Canyon College. This special occasion honors their successes and a quarter-century of educational excellence, growth, and community impact.

Each of our students has demonstrated resilience, determination, and the courage to pursue their goals, even amid uncertainty. Along the way, their families, friends, and mentors stood beside them, offering strength and support through every challenge. Just as importantly, the faculty, staff, and administrators who have been privileged to walk alongside them are reminded of the power of education and the importance of putting students first.

This moment reflects our graduates' ability to lead, adapt, and thrive in a world that continues to evolve. As we enter a new era where human creativity and advanced technology converge, I am confident that our students are empowered with the knowledge, skills, and mindset to innovate and make meaningful change.

By walking across the stage today, each of our graduates joins a proud network of more than 27,000 SCC alumni, each carrying forward a story of perseverance and purpose. To our graduating students: as you step into your next chapter, carry with you the relationships and lessons built on collaboration, trust, and kindness, and let them guide you in shaping a brighter future for generations to come.

To the Class of 2025: May your journey ahead be filled with bold accomplishments, lasting joy, and purposeful impact. Wherever life takes you, you will always have a home in the SCC community.

What Happens Here Matters—Now More Than Ever.

Dr. Kim previously served as the Interim Vice Chancellor of Educational Services and Strategic Planning and Associate Vice Chancellor of Grants and Economic Development at Riverside Community College District as well as various administrative positions throughout her 33+ year career in higher education.

As an immigrant to the U.S. with Korean as her original language, Dr. Kim was the first in her extended family to earn a doctoral degree. She earned her PhD in higher education policy, evaluation and reform from Claremont Graduate University and her master's from California State University, Fullerton and bachelor's from the University of California, Los Angeles, both in Cultural Anthropology with an emphasis on Asian and Asian-American Women.

VALEDICTORIAN

Santiago Canyon College (SCC) selects its valedictorian based on several criteria: grade point average (GPA), leadership, community service, honors and awards. First, all students selected for consideration have earned the highest GPAs among SCC students. The selection committee then evaluates each candidate for on-campus leadership, community service, honors and awards.

ZAIN SHAH

Zain Shah, raised in the vibrant, multicultural city of Montreal, Quebec, grew up surrounded by diverse languages and ideas that shaped his lifelong commitment to creativity, curiosity, and connection. A natural performer and problem-solver, he spent his childhood staging skits and dismantling toy cars—early signs of the passion for innovation and service his grandmother always foresaw. At Santiago Canyon College, Zain upheld the highest standards of academic and civic excellence, graduating with a 4.0 GPA, completing the Honors Program, and being named valedictorian. He co-founded the Future Doctors of America club to mentor aspiring healthcare professionals, and extended his service work into the broader community—mentoring refugee youth, teaching children, and volunteering abroad with orphans.

Zain's dedication to equity and empowerment is reflected in his global efforts, such as fundraising for a medical complex in Pakistan and advocating for health justice. A gifted linguist who speaks five languages and continues to learn more, he values cross-cultural understanding as a foundation for empathy and advocacy. His leadership is equally present on the field and stage—through sports, vocal recitations, and public speaking. Zain credits his achievements to the resilience and values instilled in him by his parents and the love and guidance of his grandparents, uncles, and mentors. At SCC, he extends special thanks to James Truong, Professor Amanda Henry, Professor Anson Lui, Professor Michael DeCarbo, and Dean Nguyen for their unwavering support. This fall, he will attend UCLA to continue his studies in healthcare, with a goal to bridge disparities and uplift underserved communities. For Zain, success lies not in accolades, but in purposeful acts of service that bring meaning to others. It is this sense of purpose, rooted in compassion and community, that will continue to guide his journey forward.

SALUTATORIAN: JOHNATHAN DAOUD

Jonathan Daoud, who spent his early childhood in Lebanon, developed a deep appreciation for creativity, curiosity, and service. At Santiago Canyon College, he excelled academically and emerged as a student leader, earning recognition as the Orange County American Chemical Society's Student of the Year and Supplemental Instruction Leader of the Month for organic chemistry. His passion for science extended to mentoring peers and participating in SCC's Community Science Night. Outside campus, Jonathan has volunteered in hospitals, food distribution, environmental efforts, and caregiving, reinforcing his commitment to medicine. A musician who plays bass and guitar, he credits his mother, Professor Piotrowski, and Dr. Nahla for inspiring him. He plans to attend UC Irvine to pursue a career in medicine.

CONTINUING EDUCATION EXEMPLARY HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE SPEAKER

The Santiago Canyon College Continuing Education High School Speaker is selected by faculty and staff who identify students who have not only excelled in the classroom, but have shown grit and determination in obtaining their diploma. The obstacles they have overcome are many, but do not stop these students from completing their academic goals.

KEORA STEWART

Keora Stewart is graduating with her high school diploma, a milestone that reflects years of perseverance, sacrifice, and personal growth.

Her journey has not been easy. Throughout her life, Keora has faced significant challenges, including periods of homelessness, while raising her daughter as a single parent, juggling work, school, and countless responsibilities. Despite it all, she remained committed to building a better future, not just for herself, but for her child.

A few years ago, Keora found herself at a crossroads. After cycling through a series of temporary jobs that offered short-term relief but long-term instability, she reached a breaking point. Without a permanent home, she spent nearly three months living in a motel. It was during that time of deep reflection that she began to think seriously about what lasting change would require.

In a conversation with her case worker, Keora learned that most stable careers with benefits require at least a high school diploma. That realization lit a fire within her. Trusting her faith and fueled by a sense of urgency, she began searching for summer high school diploma programs. Though there were no options in Riverside County, her search led her to Orange County, her hometown and the place where she had once left her education unfinished. To Keora, this felt like a sign from God, a chance to return and finish what she had started.

She soon discovered Santiago Canyon College and quickly enrolled in three classes. That decision marked the beginning of a new chapter, one defined by focus, determination, and a commitment to long-term stability. With each class, Keora moved closer to her goal, showing up every day for herself and her daughter, even when the road was difficult.

Now, with diploma in hand, Keora is preparing for her next chapter: a career in healthcare. She has enrolled in summer courses at Santiago Canyon College to fulfill admission requirements for an ultrasound technician program. Her determination to succeed remains strong, and her belief in lifelong learning continues to guide her forward.

Keora's story is one of courage, faith, and the power to reclaim your future, no matter how difficult the past or uncertain the road ahead.

FACULTY EXCELLENCE AWARD

The Faculty Excellence Award is the highest honor bestowed by colleagues upon a faculty member of Santiago Canyon College (SCC). Nomination criteria include service to the college, commitment to student success, curriculum development and academic leadership. Students and faculty nominate candidates, and final selection is determined by faculty vote.

SCOTTY JAMES

Scotty James's journey at Santiago Canyon College spans over 26 years. He has evolved from student to classified professional to full-time faculty. His career path reflects a profound commitment to accessibility and student success.

Beginning as a student worker, a member of the Honors program, and a campus advocate, Scotty earned election as student senator, representing his peers' interests while developing leadership skills. While completing his Bachelor's Degree, he secured a full-time position at SCC in the Disabled Students Programs & Services (DSPS).

It was within DSPS that Scotty discovered his passion for assistive technology. Working with visually impaired students, he witnessed how text-to-speech technology transformed their educational experience, providing crucial access to course materials. Students using this technology often learned to read at three times the speed of typical visual readers. Scotty also mastered text-to-speech reading and now considers it his "mini superpower." This experience inspired him to earn an M.A. in Educational Technologies to deepen his expertise in adaptive learning tools.

Throughout his career progression, Scotty has remained at the forefront of educational technology at SCC. As professor and Distance Education Coordinator, he has championed the improvement of SCC's online learning program, increasing student success rates by approximately 10% and helping faculty transition to quality online instruction during unprecedented challenges.

Today, Scotty's work focuses on AI and educational equity. He advocates for AI implementation not as a replacement for human connection, but as an accessibility tool customized to diverse learning needs.

He presented to the California Community Colleges Board of Governors, giving SCC a voice in shaping statewide AI policies. Additionally, he serves as a subject matter expert for the AI 4 Learning Network, a prestigious collaboration with Carnegie Mellon University, AXIM Collaborative (the Harvard-MIT joint endeavor that succeeded edX), and College of the Canyons, developing AI curriculum for educators.

In recognition of his pioneering work and expertise, Scotty was selected for the highly competitive AI Innovation Fellowship with the California Community College Chancellor's Office, positioning him among thought leaders developing comprehensive frameworks and ethical guidelines for AI integration across California community colleges.

Scotty's career exemplifies how technology, when thoughtfully applied, can create more equitable educational opportunities—and sometimes give us little superpowers.

FACULTY SPEAKER

The faculty speaker is selected by a vote of the graduating class. Criteria used to select the speaker include academic excellence, ability to motivate students, and a commitment to student success.

DR. SCOTT SAKAMOTO

Dr. Scott Sakamoto is an Orange County kid born and raised. Born sometime in the 1900's, Scott's parents moved him and his two brothers to Orange County the same year he was born. He attended Loma Vista elementary school, Hewes middle school, and Foothill high school. All of the way through school, math seemed to be Scott's best subject. Even prior to kindergarten, figuring out how to use every Lincoln Log to build ranches made his mom think math or engineering would be in his career path. So, upon entering UC Santa Barbara, Scott decided to be a math major.

As a youth, Scott enjoyed playing sports. Soccer every Fall and Summer, and his favorite, baseball every Spring. Unfortunately, an illness at age 11 left Scott with a vision loss, making it impossible to play sports where he needed to see a ball, which is a lot of them. So, in high school he moved to football and played center. He made All-League senior year just by moving people out of the way. In fact, his last game was played right here at Fred Kelly. After high school, Scott began to focus on college and his career.

Although a family member thought he could not be a professor because of his vision loss, Scott did not listen. When Scott started college, the math faculty orientation leader suggested he change his major. Scott did not listen, earned a B.S. in math, and graduated with honors. When graduate school began, he was not assigned a class to teach like all of the other TAs, until he let them know he can teach a class. This is important, because this is how Scott realized that teaching math was going to be his career. After earning an M.S. in math, an M.A. in special education, and a Ph.D. in pure math he started looking for work, and even that had its' issues.

Scott got a full-time job at Chapman University in 1999, working for two years while applying to community colleges in Orange County. What was Scott's number one choice, yep, Santiago Canyon College. This is the end of Scott's 24th full-time year at SCC.

Over the years, Scott has served on committees like Curriculum and Instruction and Academic Senate. He has served in various department chair roles for 15 years on and off, and is currently faculty co-chair of the Facilities and Safety committee. He just does what many SCC faculty do to contribute. But for Scott, the most important work has been teaching math and working in the Math Success Center for over 25 years at SCC.

Scott likes to follow sports, exercise, and play in pool tournaments three times per month (yes the vision makes this tough). There is no way to list everything Scott does personally or professionally. However, what he is most proud of is his son Brett, his daughter Kiyomi, and his 27-year marriage to his wife Jenny. Nothing else needs to be written.

SANTIAGO CANYON COLLEGE

PAST PRESIDENTS

Dean Strenger (1997-2000)

Dean R. Strenger served as the first president of Santiago Canyon College. In recognition of his lasting impact, Strenger Plaza was named in his honor. His legacy of leadership, community service, and academic excellence lives on through the Dean R. Strenger Service Awards, which are presented each year at Commencement to outstanding students who embody these values.

Juan Vazquez (2002-2014)

Juan Vázquez served as president of Santiago Canyon College for 12 years, guiding the college through a period of major growth in faculty, facilities, and student services. Under his leadership and with support from the $337 million Measure E bond, SCC built several key instructional buildings, including the Humanities Building, Athletics and Aquatics Complex, Science Center, Library/Learning Resource Center, and Student Services and Instruction Building.

Dr. John Weispfenning (2014-2016)

John Weispfenning previously served SCC as Dean of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, Dean of the Library, and Public Information Officer before returning as college president. He is the author of more than two dozen scholarly publications on media organizations, processes, and content.

Dr. John Hernandez (2016-2020)

John Hernandez served as Vice President of Student Services at SCC for 11 years before being named interim president, a role he held for a year before his permanent appointment. During his leadership, SCC earned recognition for two consecutive years as a Great College to Work For® by the Chronicle of Higher Education.
